Ecology At 'Ben'

BEN FRANKLIN Intermediate School youngsters in Daly City have organized a day-long program for today's Ecology Day, including not only clean-up of its own campus, but of others areas as well — including Westmoor High and Lake Merced. Additionally, there will be numerous ecology-related movies, discussions, letter writing and walks. Also on campus will be bathroom cleanup and painting sessions, and curtain sewing groups, plus the school's stage band performance. WRONG NIGHT, BUT...

South S.F.'s Rocca Bows Out

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

Although Tuesday was a special council meetinng night for swearing in ceremonies, retiring South San Francisco Councilman Andrew Rocca bowed out toward the end of Monday night's regular council session.

When City Mgr. Tom McKenzie went outside the council chambers to escort in Mrs Rocca, the surprised veteran councilman was visibly moved.

However, after Mayor Frank Bertucelli asked the councilman to say a few words, Rocca cleared his throat and soon revealed the trademark of his character by taking full control of the situation.

"I thought tomorrow (Tuesday) night was the night," he said. "But if you want the speech tonight, I'll give it."

Rocca then explained that he would have had 16 years on the council this September. He said, "Anyone who has been on a council for that long ought to have something other than routine business to fall back on."

He cited the perseverance which helped bring about pay for councilmen based on city population. This benefit to all city councilmen throughout the state was ramroded by Councilman Rocca.

"It took five years to do," said Rocca. "But I knew it could be done if I stuck with it."

A second accomplishment the veteran councilman looks back on with pride is the city's Oyster Point Marina.

He told how he was taking the man who could help put through the deal that would allow the city to receive a 15-year loan at 3.7 per cent interest to build the marina at a cost of $575,000 on a tour of the facility.

ANDREW ROCCA

"It was really a lousy day," said Rocca. "The wind was blowing papers all around and the place looked dreary. But I told this man that if he used a little imagination he could visualize a real beautiful marina.

"Well, we walked around for quite some time. Then he turned to me and said with a smile. 'You sure do need a lot of imagaination.' "

And Rocca smiled broadly as he retold the story, pointing out of course the city did get the loan.

"I've just told these two incidents to point that you can do

Fourth Term As Mayor For Lycett

By FRANK LaPIERRE
Post-Time Writer

Daly City councilman Bernard (Bud) Lycett was expected to be returned to the mayor's seat for an unprecendted fourth consecutive term Tuesday.

During the special council meeting slated to get underway at the City Hall at 8 p.m., Lycett, along with two new faces on the council—Louis J. Papan and McRobert Mac Stewart — were sworn into office.

It will begin the seventh year as a Daly City councilman for Realtor Lycett. Both Papan and Stewart start their first four year term, replacing ousted councilman Michael DeBernardi and retired councilman Edward J. Dennis.

Frank Pacelli will remain as vice-chairman of the city for a second term.

Lycett lead the recent ballot with 4379; Papan next it with 4024; and Stewart with 3912. The next closest candidate in last Tuesday's campaign was JESD trustee William Bill Schumacher with 3232—680 votes behind.

The newly elected councilmen were to take their posts midway through Tuesday's meeting, as is customary.

Superior court judge Frank Blum was to swear in Lycett and Stewart, with municipal judge Charles Becker installing Papan.

Firemen In San Bruno Save Woman

By WILL THOMAS
Post City Editor

A San Bruno woman was overcome by smoke generated from her burning car Sunday, but was revived by two firemen who smashed down the front door to her home at 219 Linden Avenue.

San Bruno Marshal Harper Petersen said smoke from the 7:25 p.m. blaze, possibly started in the upholstery of the car by a cigarette ash, overcame Mona E. Carter, 58, who was alone in the house.

The first two firemen to arrive at the scene, Capt. L. Spivey and Fireman James Hoyle from Central Station, broke down the front door after an unidentified man said he believed the woman to be inside the house.

The man said he had been pounding on the door, but was unable to raise her, Petersen said.

Capt. Spivey and Fireman Hoyle found the woman unconscious, but still breathing, slumped in a chair near the front door in the living room.

Marshal Petersen said the fire started in a late model car parked in the garage of the split-level residence, and had been burning "for sometime" by the time firemen were called.

"It was terribly smoky in the house," Petersen explained.

Petersen estimated some $250 damage to the structure. The car was destroyed, he said.

Two men fighting the fire were hurt. Deputy Chief Lee Moore suffered a shoulder injury and Fireman Jess Doran was treated for a cut hand. Neither injury was serious.

Meetings Launched On Pupil Changes

Jefferson Elementary School District sixth grade parents are meeting with school officials to discuss overcrowded conditions at the Ben Franklin School in Daly City.

The first of four such sessions began last night at Christopher Columbus School, for Columbus and Franklin D. Roosevelt parents.

Dist. Supt. Frank Greenwood announced that parents of Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison Schools' sixth graders will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Edison School.

Thursday, parents of Vista Mar, Garden Village and Westlake Schools' sixth graders will gather at 7:30 p.m. at the Westlake School.

M. Pauline Brown and Daniel Webster School parents will meet at 7:30 p.m. April 27 at the M. P. Brown facility.

"The administration would like to discuss," according to a notice to parents from Greenwood, "with the parents, the overcrowded conditions at the Ben Franklin School, and the different alternatives that have been considered for its solution."

School officials have indicated that to relieve Ben Franklin of nearly 300 students would result in elimination of several problems there.

The students would be sent to Fernando Rivera School, which would be converted to a two-grade, seventh and eighth, facility.

Present lower-grade students at Fernando Rivera, under original proposals by Greenwood, would be sent to Westlake School.

There has been opposition as well as satisfaction with the plan expressed by parents at board of trustee meetings.

Trustees did not discuss the situation at Monday night's meeting.

Greenwood's notice indicated, however, that the board might "make a final decision at the April 28 board meeting."

Councilmen In South S.F. Whip Through The Agenda

South San Francisco councilmen Monday night astonishingly whipped through their regular agenda in record time—30 minutes.

This speed, however, was a direct result of a pre-council session that took some two-and-one-half hours.

Everything was going smoothly in the pre-council session, too, until two Westborough-related items came under fire.

One had to do with installation of a flashing red light at the intersection of Galway Place and Westborough Boulevard.

The light, which will alert passing vehicles of the fire trucks coming out of the new Westborough Fire Station, was inadvertently left out of the plans and specifications of the new station.

As it turned out, the city councilmen have agreed to pick up the tab for the installation, but not before first thinking of the possibilities of sharing payment with the J. H. Snyder Company, land developers.

Hank Richman, representing that firm, said he was "shocked when he found out the piece of installation was to be shared by the city and the developer.

"The $1500 is not going to make or break us," said Richman. "It is the principle of the thing. The station is a city function, not our obligation. Maybe every resident should pay 50 cents."

Lou Goss, director of public works, pointed out that the error was with the city engineers in that they inadvertently had left the item out of the plan.

Two Projects Will Get Most Highway Money In County

Informal San Bruno Gathering

FIRST OFFICIAL GET-TOGEHER of the veteran and new San Bruno councilmen was this past Saturday, four days after the election. Pictured at the Wastewater Treatment Works, operated in conjunction with South San Francisco, are, from left, Neil Christal, Maurice Hamilton, Dick Griffith, George Corey and Ted Long. State Planning To Proceed; Funds Regained

The bulk of highway funds that San Mateo County will receive in the next three to four years will go into two projects: the missing link of Interstate 280 through the San Francisco watershed and the east-west connector to International Airport through San Bruno.

State Division of Highways Engineer Alan S. Hart told a subcommittee of the Greater Transportation Committee last week that $126 million in statewide highway funds have been restored following a partial freeze by Governor Reagan to curb inflation.

"We have the word now to go ahead," Hart told city members of the subcommittee, "and will advertise $13½ million in highway jobs in San Mateo County this year."

Daily rush-hour drivers of bumper-to-bumper Canada Road between Belmont and Woodside will have to wait till the late fall of 1973 before Interstate 280 is completed, Hart revealed.

"We have 12 million yards of dirt to move and 4½ miles of road to build and the State Highway Commission has told us to do a crash job," Hart said.

That long-awaited project—the subject of a great deal of past controversy since the original route proposed would have bisected a wilderness area, will get under way with a $2 million

Serramonte Is Accepted

AFTER the formal ceremonies, in which Jefferson High School District officials accepted the new Serramonte High School plant in Daly City, came the less glamorous chore of installing the bronze plaque on a wall — preformed by Terry Morris and Clarence Davis after the some 150 persons attending the special affair Sunday had departed. San Bruno Woman Dies, 3 Others Hurt In Crash

A young San Bruno woman was killed and three others suffered minor injuries in a three-car crash in Brisbane Monday afternoon.

Rescue units worked for almost an hour to free the body of Junine Marie Gallagher, 20, pinned in the twisted wreckage of her small MG convertible sportscar after it collided with another car driven by Jack W. Beaird, 32, of San Francisco.

The victim's sister, Alicia Gallagher, 18, escaped the crash with only minor injuries.

Both girls lived at 2861 Muirfield Circle, San Bruno.

Brisbane Police Sgt. John Alexander said investigation revealed Beaird's car was southbound on Old Bayshore Boulevard near the South San Francisco off-ramp of the Bayshore Freeway about 2:45 p.m. when it collided with a foreign-made compact car driven by Lauretta Vadlez, 38, 451 HemlockAvenue, South San Francisco.

Beaird's car slid into the path of the oncoming sportscar after the collision and apparently Miss Gallagher was unable to avoid hitting it, Sgt. Alexander said.

Mrs. Valdez suffered minor injuries in the crash and was treated and released at Kaiser Hospital.

School Site For Students Is Topic

Action was expected to be taken by the trestees of the Jefferson High School District last night on a proposal to send ninth graders from the Vallemar-Rockaway regions of Pacifica to Oceana High School instead of Terra Nova next year.

The subject was discussed at a special Oceana High meeting that attracted some nine interested persons last week.

According to a plan submitted by District Superintendent Edward Morgan some 42 youngsters who will be entering high school next year would be involved.

Letters had been sent to all parents in the Vallemar and Rockaway areas prior to the session to outline the plan, designed to reduce projected over-capacity conditions at Terra Nova.

Trustees have heard both pros and cons to the proposed shifts. Most of the discussion has centered around the advantage and disadvantages of modular scheduling, the type of schooling used at Oceana, but not at Terra Nova. The school board also might take action on a plan to move one three-classroom portable from the Jefferson High campus in Daly City to the Terra Nova campus.

Terra Nova is described as the fastest growing school area in the district, with 1624 capacity presently and an enrollment of 1652 is forecast for next term and 1965 in 1973.

Oceana's population is 1370, in a plant that has a load capacity of 1699. It is estimated the enrollment at Oceana will be 1505 next year and 1643 in 1973.

The jump in the Terra Nova enrollment some day might mean the skimming off of the front part of Linda Mar Valley—at least a portion of it, officials say—to shift the load from the Tiger campus to Oceana.

Superintendent Morgan told trustees last week that further study on this possibility will be made and that a report would be prepared for board consumption in October or November.

things. But you also need to know the importance of timing."

Rocca had the usual plaudits for the job, the people who work for the city and whom he has worked with and "even those who criticize me."

Prefacing his next remarks with the fact any similarity to persons in or about South San Francisco was strictly coincidental, he told a humorous story to illustrate his situation.

In it he told of the ageless gentleman who sat to the rear of a council session claiming that he had served on a council for many, many years without ever having an enemy.

Asked how he had accomplished such a feat, the elderly gentleman's eyes gleamed and he said "I just naturally outlived all of the skunks."

The highest complimentary remarks to the retiring councilman came from the two youngest members of the council and the city manager. Their phrases made no attempts at hiding their respect and sincerity.

Said Councilman Frank Mammini, "The wealth of knowledge I've gained from you is priceless. It has truly been a privilege to serve on a council with a gentleman of your caliber."

These words were echoed by Councilman Warren Steinkamp, who added, "I have gained immeasurably from your wisdom."

City Mgr. Tom McKenzie said, "On behalf of the staff, I thank you for the privilege of working with you. I admire the manner in which you handle yourself. And I for one am going to miss you very much."

What about Rocca's successor? The retiring councilman had a few words for him, too. "Be positive, decisive, hold your own counsel and come to your own conclusions."

Council-elect William Borba sat in a front row seat watching and listening as the packed house nodded agreement to Rocca's words.

Golf Tourney Is Postponed

The San Bruno Airport City Open Golf Tournament, originally scheduled for May 15, has been postponed unctil october 9, according to Tournament Chairman Karney Barberian.

Postponement follows earlier postoneent from April 15 to October 4, of Airport Appreciation Week activities because of the control tower "sick in."

Choir, Ecology Panel From DC School On TV

The choir of the Benjamin Franklin School and 14 other students from the Daly City intermediate facility will be seen in a video-taped "It's Our World" program to be seen on KRON-TV (Ch. 4) at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Ed Hart narrated the program dealing with pollution and ecology and their solution.

The choir is directed by Mrs. Carolyn Schwartz. Pupils participating in the ecology discussion were from the eighth grade social studies class taught by Mrs. Linda Peebles.

Leonard Mertz, credited with coming up with the idea, is listed as student producer, according to Ben Franklin School sources.

said that legally the plans and specifications [illegible] tions. Since it wasn't listed another avenue to explore would be whether the fire alarm system would be considered an improvement of the subdivision.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli ended speculation by saying, "the city is not going to penalize anyone for our mistakes."

The second item, which took considerably more time, ended in agreement that Caesar Callan Homes, Inc., would have a $750,000 improvement bond for West Park units one and two returned if they comply with other bond requirements.

These requirements were that the firm repair cracked sidewalks, submit a $20,000 improvement bond and another bond of $10,000 as a two-year maintenance bond.

In addition the city attorney emphasized that a present $42,000 performance bond would be secured to the city.

This, and other efforts at negotiation by Noonan, prompted Tom Callan Jr. to a rare performance of histronics in which he referred to the city attorney as a "Philadelphia lawyer."

Callan's contention was that the city was "bonding him to death" and he was seeking relief from it.

project relocating the north end of Canada Road.

After that, Hart said, there will be two grading jobs to let out from the top of the hill in each direction, a paving job, and then an interchange project at the point where Highway 92 meets 280.

Before the Division of Highways can get started, however, plans for the watershed project must go back to Washington, D.C., for the personal approval of Transportation Secretary Arthur Volpe as required by recent federal law controlling highways traversing through wilderness and wildlife areas.

Sixty per cent of the funds allocated to the county until 1973 will go into the watershed project, Hart said, with the 40 per cent balance into the San Bruno freeway (380).

The portion of the San Bruno freeway from Bayshore to El Camino Real, including the San Bruno interchange and work at the main entrance of International Airport will go to contract, Hart said, as fast as he can get everybody's approval of the final plans.

He asked San Bruno Councilman Karney Barberian to set up a meeting with airport representatives soon for this purpose.

Good progress is being made in twelve other major highway projects, listed by the county in the top-priority A schedule for construction or rights of way allocations, Hart reported, and no special push will be needed to further these along, he said.

SSF Plaques Will Go On Camino Tour

Members of the El Camino High School theatrical group scheduled to tour several European countries will be carrying special plaques for presentation to the countires as gifts of the City of South San Francisco.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli at Monday afternoon's pre-council session [illegible] fellow councilmen that he had taken it upon himself to authorize the plaques due to press of time. The group leaves this weekend.

He had one concern about the project — that there may be a conflict of interest because the man he told to make the plaques is Councilman-elect William Borba.

City Atty. John Noonan explained that there would be no conflict of interest if the plaques were donated by Borba.

Bertucelli said that if Borba didn't want to donate the plaques, then he (Bertucelli) would come up with some money out of his pocket. The other councilmen agreed to do the same.

So regardless of who pays for the one-foot-square plaques, the city's ambassadors will carry them to Europe.

Friday Cruise For Officials

A group of South San Francisco city officials are scheduled to cruise from the Oyster Point Marina to the marina of San Leandro about noon Friday.

Purpose of the jaunt is for a study of the Sa Leandro facility. The inspection tour may possibly give South San Francisco officials some ideas relative to improvement of their own marina.

The status of the South San Francisco marina, and suggestions as to how it could pay for itself by following ideas suggested by Sa Leandro, was a major campaign issue of uncussessful council candidate Ed Toby.

Starting Time May Change

Negotiations between South San Francisco Unified School District superintendent Paul Nielsen and the district's negotiating council could result in a change in next year's school starting time.

Nielsen said that while he had not discussed the proposal with the school board members, he would recommend a new calendar because of the "contention" that the adopted calendar interferes with regular summer school sessions of teachers.

The proposed calendar calls for 177 teaching days beginning September 1 and ending June 3, 1971. In the new proposal institute for all teachers is scheduled for August 31.

Grand Theft Charges Are Dismissed

Grand theft charges against Leroy T. Clark, a candidate in the recent Brisbane city elections, were dismissed by Municipal Judge Robert Miller during a preliminary hearing in South San Francisco Friday.

Judge Miller ruled the District Attorney's Office had failed to submit sufficient evidence to support its contention that Clark intentionally stole some $250 worth of used plywood belonging to John Ronald J. Musetti of San Francisco.

Clark allegedly used the wood to construct some 27 political signs around the city.

Following the three-hour hearing, defense attorney Gerald Schneider, of San Carlos, said his client would file a $1 million false arrest suit against Brisbane Police Chief Billy Beard, Musetti and others directly concerned with his arrest, next week.

The charges stem from some used plywood which Clark found piled on a Brisbane lot he was renting from John Matulich of San Francisco.

Area Election Help Needed

Workers for election precincts in the Daly City-Colma area are needed for the June 2 Primary Election, County Clerk Marvin Church disclosed today.

Church, in attempting to combat the shortage of election workers, explained that any qualified voter may apply for the election day positions.

Information may be obtained by calling 349-5511 collect.

D.C. Concert

The Jefferson Elementary School District's instrumental music festival will be at 8 p.m., April 22, in the Jefferson High School gym in Daly City.

The public is invited to the program, to feature music pupils from Ben Franklin and Colma Intermediate and Fernando Rivera schools, as well as the honor orchestra.

SSF Environment Conscience Grows

People in South San Francisco do care about their environment and with the help of their city government did quite a bit to improve it recently.

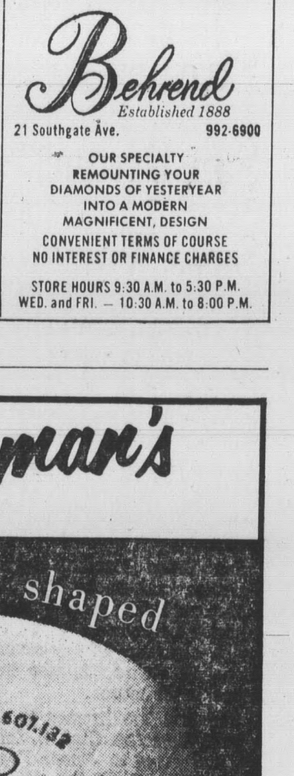

Over 200 came down to the Recreation and City Park Department Nursery at Orange Avenue Memorial Park and either picked up trees and shrubs for erosion control planting, or signed up to have street trees planted at their homes. Robert L. Maxey, Superintendent of Recreation and Parks was on hand with Park Foreman, Guido De Luca, Landscape Specialist John Hoffman, and a crew of City Gardeners to assist the public in selecting their trees and to give advice on the planting. Literature on conservation was available as well as tree planting and erosion control information.

Erosion problems were fresh in the minds of many residents after the rainy season. Others were looking ahead to the dust problems that unplanted areas cause when the dry windy weather comes. About 4,500 little seedling Monterey pines as well as 640 or more other larger trees and shrubs were given away by the Recreation and Park Department to be planted for the control of erosion and dust. In addition to these, order were taken for the planting of over 80 street trees.

During the week about 30 trees were donated to 12 schools for planting to commemorate Arbor Day, Conservation Week and Luther Burbank's birthday. Scout group also planted trees during the week as did the West Winston Manor Community Association. President Dorothy Yrjola reported a good turn out by the members when they held their annual "Tree Give Away Day." The purchased from their treasury and gave out 500 seedling pines and 100 shrubs in one gallon cans.

The schools who took advantage of the City's annual Tree planting this year, as they have during the past several years, used the occasion as an opportunity to impress on the students the need for trees to beautify and improve their surroundings.

Resolutions To Set Up A District

Seven resolutions have been adopted by San Bruno councilmen to set up a Cherry Avenue extension assessment district in the city.

They also adopted a resolution approving a utilities agreement with the State Division of Highways concerning relocation of water facilities due to freeway construction between Huntington Avenue and Fourth Street.

Another resolution accepting an easement from the North Coast County Water District to use certain lands as a public street along Sharp Park Road also was adopted.

Four ordinances also were adopted, after waiving of first and second readings. These included amending the city code to regulate the types of tires "with protuberances" to be used on city streets. This amendment, in which the first reading was waived, is meant to keep steel-tread tires off the streets and sidewalks.

Second reading was waived on an amendment to create minimum offstreet parking in the RM and PD districts, in another to define and modify sizes of garage spaces and parking spaces.

Broadmoor Loses Bid To Incorporate

Feelings ran high Wednesday as the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) rejected, for the second time in less than a year, a proposal to incorporate Broadmoor and the unincorporated Colma area as the county's 19th city.

A delegation of some 50 sign-carrying residents made no effort to hide their disappointment and anger that the commission again denied them the right to vote on incorporation.

A sheriff's deputy was sent for at one point when a man started shouting imprecations from the back of the room. He quieted down, however, and the deputy did not enter the room. There was no further trouble.

After the commission had voted unanimously to deny the incorporation application on the basis that it had failed to meet the standards established in state law, delegation leader Al Ikler gave this bitter parting shot:

"I hope you are able to sleep with your conscien ces."

It was clear throughout the hearing, which was held in public hearing, that the incorporation proposal was born of a fear that Broadmoor will be annexed by Daly City, either all at once or piecemeal.

"I detect that you really want to incorporate in self-defense," Chairman Maurice K. Hamilton.

In a discussion with some members of the delegation after the hearing Hamilton pointed out that Daly City would not be able to "nibble away" at Broadmoor without the approval of the county agency. It became clear in the discussion that some of the residents did not know that they would have the chance to vote down any attempt by Daly City to annex Broadmoor in its entirety.

Many of the residents carried placards to the meeting and most had pin-ons bearing the message, "Let Us Vote."

Hamilton emphasized that the commission could not be concerned about the election, but only whether the incorporation proposal met the prescribed standards.

A petition by Ikler's group was first turned down last June. They asked for, and received, a waiver of a one-year waiting requirement so that the proposal could be re-submitted early. LAFCO made it clear that the full one-year period must pass before the proposal will be considered again.

Aviation Fete In San Bruno Is Changed

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce has postponed "Aviation Appreciation Week" to October 4.

Originally scheduled for April 15, this is the first time this annual event, which includes tours through airport facilities, Bay Area sight-seeing flights, and a celebration flight, climaxing with a banquet, has been changed.

At the regular San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors' meeting, Aviation Appreciation Week Co-chairman Karney Barberian recommended that the date of the promotion be changed due to conditions at the airport.

Chamber Vice President and FAA Chief Controller Norman Merkel said such a decision was wise because "due to the general unstable conditions caused by the air controllers sick-out, the air lines have had to lay people off. I don't know how long the present unstable condition will continue."

It was decided to not call off the "Airport City Open Golf Tournament" scheduled for May 15 at Crystal Springs.

The Board of Directors officially accepted Glen Chapman of Cameo Carpets as a member of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

Public Bid On Contract

The contract which will provide for the final link in the Cabrillo Freeway through Daly City is scheduled to go out to public bid next month.

R. A. Hayler, deputy district engineer for the State Division of Highways, informed city manager David Rowe that "barring unforseen events" construction on the $4.7 million project will get underway this summer.

The link will tie in Junipero Serra Freeway with Skyline Boulevard.

4 D.C. Youths Go To State Prison

Four Daly City youths involved in a shootout at the Martin Luther King Recreation Center in San Mateo January 12 were sentenced to state prison terms Thursday.

Although the county probation department recommended that three of the youths be sentenced to probation and county jail terms and the fourth to the California Youth Authority, Superior Court Judge Robert F. Kane imposed the more severe prison terms.

The jurist noted that the victim of the shootout, Charles Rogan, 17, of 1204 Dix Street, San Mateo, will be paralyzed for life, one of the bullets fired by a defendant having severed his spinal cord. Rogan is in a Santa Monica hospital and, in addition to the paralysis, is suffering from osteomyelitis and a kidney infection, both said to be direct results of the injury.

Sentenced to the prison terms were Freddie J. Cuba Jr., 19, of 320 Citrus Street; Billy Carl Wheaton, 19, of 290 Oliver Street; William W. Kendrick, 21, of 419 Bellevue Street, and Ronald A. Adams, 19, of 293 Flournoy Street.

Adams and Wheaton pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a deadly weapon and Kendrick and Cuba to counts of being accessories. Probation officers recomended a Youth Authority commitment for Wheaton and three-year probation terms for the others. The recommended county jail terms were six months for Cuba and Adams and one year for Kendrick.

Two other suspects, 17-year-olds, were referred to juvenile court. One was released for lack of evidence. The other, Ervin Peters, was placed on probation in February for aiding and abetting.

At the time of the incident police report that the group from Daly City armed themselves and came to San Mateo for a confrontation with some San Mateo youths with whom they had been feuding. There had been shooting incidents at the center on the two previous nights.

The defendants told the probation officers who interviewed them that on the night of January 12 they came to San Mateo to return two girls to their homes and that they went to the King Center to return a purse that one of the girls had left in the car.

THE MARQUEE

Mineo Not A Toughie

Sal Mineo wanted to direct so badly, he took a flop show, rewrote it, changed the emphasis and brought it back to the same cities where it had previously had only passing reviews.

"Fortune and Men's Eyes," opening at the Committee Theater today, has been here before. The John Herbert prison drama that takes place in a cell and shows the changes in human values and personality as a result of that confinement didn't ring true when the former child actor read it. He visited jails and talked with convicts until he saw the play's flaws in terms of dramatic honesty, which makes the play totally different from what we saw two years ago at the Encore Theater.

Why make his debut with "Fortune"?

"The property lends itself to selections. You either hate what I did or hate it with a vengeance which takes heat, stimulation and emotional reaction. If you dig it, you won't say simply that it was a nice evening in the theater," the soft-spoken, dedicated 31-year-old film and stage personality remarked over dinner between rehearsal breaks.

The son of a Sicilian casket maker in the Bronx, Sal (who has kept his real name) broke into show business at the age of 11. He appeared on Broadway with Maureen Stapleton and Eli Wallach in "The Rose Tattoo."

"I'D BEEN IN TROUBLE WITH THE LAW and my parents were told to keep me off the streets by either letting them put me in detention home or getting involved in extra-curricular activities. The social worker suggested a school that taught dancing, acrobatics, acting, stagecraft and singing. My father didn't know what a theater was but I went and they picked me for this professional walk-on role. I was so exhausted after classes, I didn't have the energy to get into trouble."

How has he felt being on the other side of the stage as a director?

"At least I know how to handle actors, having been one myself and knowing how many ways there are to pull the wool over the director's eyes to get away with things. To vie for attention when I felt I was being slighted, I'd screw up a scene for the security I got in being bawled out."

To correct this situation, Sal spends a great deal of time discussing the role with the actor and never raises his voice during rehearsals or humiliates an actor. He draws them aside to make suggestions, listens to their suggestions and commits the cast to loyalty and a sense of unity.

HE WAS ONLY 16 YEARS OLD when he appeared in "Rebel Without A Cause," with James Dean, one of his most memorable performances before "Exodus."

"I've written a script titled, 'A Fallen Dove' which I'd like to direct or act in. Performing on stage is a way of making money while I'm convincing producers that I can direct. 'Fortune' will provide that showcase for me. people seem to expect me to be in it, but I only appeared in the Los Angeles production because someone People seem to expect me to be in it, but I only apunderstudy."

"There were 16 productions of the original company, all financial failures. That's why it was easy for me to get the rights. It's not true that adding the nudity was reason to restage it. I feel strongly about prison reform and think this play is one way of informing the public about what it's all about. And it is a way of showing what I can do as a director, although my agents never took me seriously when I approached them."

Art Classes Are Offered

The final spring session of Adult Art Classes is currently being offered by the Daly City Recreation, Parks and Maintenance Department.

All classes will be held in the Art and Craft Center located at 101 Peoria.

It's not too late to enroll in the Beginning Cake Decorating Class which is held on Tuesdays from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Eight classes still remain in the 10-week program. There is an instruction fee of $8 plus supplies for the remaining classes.

Flowermaking will get under way on Thursday, April 16 through May 21 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Make interesting creations in resin, felt, crepe paper, beads, and tissue paper. The instruction fee is $6 plus.

Shakespeare Is Presented

One of Shakespeare's liveliest comedies, "The Taming of the Shrew," opened at Jefferson High School in Daly City last Thursday night a a 6-day run.

Some 30 students, directed by Judy Mongan, will enact this classic play.

Variously characterized as bawdy, raucous and funny, "The Taming of the Shrew" is about the age-old theme of the battle of the sexes. The Jefferson production will star Brenda Bradshaw as the shrew, Katherine; and Ray Howard as Petruchio, the man who takes on the seemingly impossible task of taming this fierce woman.

ACADEMICS

Kenneth Klassen of 48 Cottonwood Drive, Daly City, was one of 147 students at Kent State University who received a "straight A" average during the winter quarter.

Nell Norton's Sugar 'N Spice

Here's An Old Aussie Cooky

Good morning, good cooks.

Next Saturday, April 25 is ANZAC Day. The day commerates the courage and bravery of the Australian and New Zealand Army Corps (ANZACs) at Gallipoli during the Dardanelles campaing in World War I.

Australia, its people and history have held my affection and interest for years . I think this fondness of mine for Australia began in World War II with the newsreels showing the dashing Aussie soldier in his slouch hat, whistling "Waltzing Matilda" as he marched off to battle. Travelogues, books and the Australians I have met have increased my admiration for the country and its people.

Therefore when I received a letter from my friend Mrs. Boyd Ketchum who is a teacher at Asroka Lutheran High School in the Terriroty of New Guinea and it contained the bonus of a recipe for an Australian cookie called ANZAC biscuits, I was delighted. I may never visit Australia but I can sample their cooking.

ANZAC BISCUITS

2 cups rolled oats
1 cup cocoanut
2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
2 Tablespoons golden syrup
1 cup butter or margarine
4 Tablespoons boiling water
2½ teaspoons baking soda
(Bake 350-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes).

In a large mixing bowl combine the two cups rolled oats, one cup flaked cocoanut, two cups flour and one cup sugar, mix well. Melt the two tablespoons syrup and one cup butter in a saucepan. Combine the two and one-half teaspoons soda with the four tablespoons boiling water and add to the melted butter and syrup.

Pour the hot mixture into the dry ingredients and mix well. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Allowing about 2-inches between cookies, for this makes a large, thin, crisp cookie. Bake 350-degrees for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Makes about four dozen.

NOTE: Golden Syrup is exactly what its name says, a heavy golden-colored syrup. Imported from England, it's available at some local markets. However, if you can't find it you may substitute white syrup.

SINCE CAROLEEN was kind enough, in the rush of her good cooks, it seems only fair that I put in another cookie recipe busy days, to take the time to send this recipe to share with you for you good cooks and Caroleen to try. These soft, spicy molasses cookies are delicious.

SOFT MOLASSES COOKIES

3½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup margarine
½ cup sugar
3 eggs
1 cup dark full-flavored molasses
½ cup sour condensed milk
1 cup all bran

Sift three times the three and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking soda, fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg and the half teaspoon cloves. Cream the half cup each margarine and sugar. Beat in the three eggs and cup of molasses and continue beating until light and fluffy. Stir in the half cup sour condensed milk and add the sifted dry ingredients gradually, mixing well. Fold in the cup all bran.

Drop by rounded tablespoons two inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake in 400-degree oven about 12 minutes or until done. Makes about four dozen cookies.

Louanne Heath's Datebook

That sound of collective sighing is coming from the vicinity of the Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church and the cause is the need to rest and collect energy before the BIG weekend, on tap in just one week.

After weeks of hard work and dozens of planning sessions, Old San Francisco, the Our Lady of Mercy Parish Festival for 1970, is ready for its debut on April 30, according to Mrs. James Kelleher, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women. Now it's time for committee members to rest and recoup energy and get prepared for the onslaught of festival goers which are inevitable during the four-day event.

Chuck Boerio is the general chairman of the festival and his floor chairmen are to be Mrs. Frank Lawson, Gabe Adami, Dick Galliani and Leo Revello. Ed Cuevas has had the responsibility for the decorations which will follow a turn of the century in San Francisco motif. Mrs. John Kachur has been in charge of securing the general merchandise and the major investment has been undertaken by Mrs. James Diggins and A. J. Phillips.

As is typical of this particular festival, the committee has spent a good deal of effort in dreaming up clever and appropriate names for the various booths. The San Francisco theme has offered a wide range of possibilities and guests will visit Mrs. Ted Frankos, Mrs. Arthur Gerstenkorn and Mrs. Leroy Berning at "The White House" to shop for linens. Mrs. Donald Gianfermo and Mrs. Verne Buere will be in "Chinatown" selling tickets for the grab bag.

IF YOU PLAN TO SHOP for a youngster drop by "Playland" and see Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Michael Salvamini and Mrs. Marcel Calvain. "Ghiradelli Square" was once the chocolate center of the bay city and it will be the center of "sweets" at the festival with Mrs. Albert Fambrini and Mrs. Victor Sariotti and Mrs. Raymond Forcina on hand to sell candies.

Garden items will be, naturally, in "Golden Gate Park" and Mrs. Peter Busalacchi, Mrs. Sal Parise and Mrs. Robert Ricket on hand to assist shoppers. "The Zoo" wil lbe the place to visit if you are shopping for a panda and Mrs. John Cresalia and Mrs. Thomas Moore will be the "zoo-tenders".

For generations San Franciscans have gone to North Beach for good food and festival-goers may purchase refreshments from Mrs. Howie Poblitz, Mrs. Frank Ingalls, Mrs. Frank Curry and Mrs. Vincent Alberti in the parish's version of "North Beach".

GUESTS OF THE NORTH PENINSULA Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home have been invited to come to Oriental Splendor, the annual fashion show-luncheon, wearing oriental attire, according to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman. Though the choice of whether to accept the unusual invitation or not is left to the guests, members are hoping that everyone with something from the Far East will wear it and add a bit of the exotic to the occasion.

The Fashion of Westlake will be supplying the stylish dresses for the show and Frank Dill of KRON and KNBR will add his graceful wit and style to the commentary. Georgette's of Westlake will do the coiffures.

Early reservations have been made by Mrs. August Rothschild, a member of the executive board of the home for unwed mothers; Helene Nemschoff, director of the Volunteer Bureau of San Francisco; Mrs. Michael Gottleib, Mrs. John Doelger, Mrs. Ricco Lagomarsino, Mrs. Murray H. Freedman and Mrs. William Lagomarsino. If you haven't as yet made reservations for the April 30 event do so today by calling Mrs. Frank Greenwood,

TERRA NOVA HIGH TOPICS

By Anne Dryden

Rehearsals are now underway for the Drama Department's spring play, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," to be presented April 30 and May 1, 2, 8 and 9.

Mr. David Campbell is directing the cast of twenty-one. "Pennypacker" is Liam O'Brien's 1954 comedy of a late 19th-century family in Delaware. Portraying the major characters in Horace Pennypacker's family are Patti Howard, Lowell James, Bill Koppler, Sue Booher, Cindy Ficken, Kevin Gage, and Blaine Tinsley.

Small blue buttons declaring "Horace Pennypacker is O.K." are now on sale in the drama room for 25c.

STUDENTS SEARCHING for their identity may possibly find themselves by buying a copy of Terra Nova's third issue of Tiger Tales. The front and back covers of the magazine feature the faces of hundreds of TN students.

The third quarterly issue, which goes on sale this week, is the advanced journalism class's biggest and possibly best effort.

This quarter's features include a study of the psychology of school spirit, a day-in-the-life of local free-lance photographer Donna Starr, an expose on the glamorous sport of hitchhiking, and a look at two new schools, Crespi Elementary and Serramonte High School.

Readers are eligible to test their perception and intelligence by entering the "Name the Wonder" contest, sponsored by feature editor Rockie Montenegro.

EIGHT SENIORS have won scholarships from the California State Scholarship Commission ranging in value from $150 to $2,000. Scholarships were awarded on the basis of grade point average, Scholastic Aptitude Test scores and financial need. Fifteen Terra Nova seniors were named semi-finalists in early March. The eight fortunate finalists are: Gary Cushing, Ed Dellarocca, Andy Dowsett, Anne Dryden, Joanne Gribble, Vickie Rainsford, Maureen Reed, and Keith Willard.

SERRAMONTE HAPPENINGS

Dance Symposium

A Dance Symposium will be held at Serramonte in the Little Theater on May 8 at 8 p.m.

The nine girls participating are Pebbles Lovings, Debbie Lovings, Carol Muller, Carol Taylor, Cathy Tuttle, Rosanne Bonavito, Michele Fontenot, Yvonne Davis, and Elaine Amituani.

Most of the dancing done by the girls will be under the categories of modern dances, jazz dances, and Israeli dances.

According to Mrs. Mary Millar, dance instructor, "The girls are doing this because they like to dance and want to perform in front of people. The girls have been working and staying after school at least three times a week for many weeks.

Pebbles Lovings, the president of the group, said the public is invited.

Tickets are $1 with student body card, $1.25 without.

Mrs. Mary Millar is the sponsor of this activity.

PROFESSOR EUGENE WEINSTEIN, a Political Science professor at San Francisco State College was the guest speaker at Tuesdays large group U.S. history class at Serramonte.

His topic for discussion was "Black Capitalism" and the factors involved. He tried to explain that "black power" was a term that could be interpreted in many different ways, such as black economics, black politics, and the use of militancy as a tactic for the blacks to attain complete freedom in every facet of American Life.

Staley Walker, a student, asked Professor Weinstein: "Do you agree with 'black power'? To this the professor replied, "It depends upon your definition of "Black power."

Stan seemed dissatisfied with this reply and continued to ask the same question, ultimately walking out of the discussion, still dissatisfied. Stan and other black students voiced their opinion that a white man was incapable of elating the facts of "black power" to the group, because he had not experienced being black.

The question of a Third World Alliance overthrowing the government was also discussed.

To this Professor Weinstein replied, "It would be impossible to do so because the government is backed by the powers of the national guard, state militias, and local police forces.

The suitors for the latter must get a husband for the shrew because her father will not consent to give Bianc's hand in marriage until the older sister is wed. They eventually land upon Petruchio, a clever and firm man, who in time tames the shrew.

Petruchio is played by Raymond Howard; Kathariana is the shrew is portrayed by Brenda Bradshaw. Fern Tracey and Margie Talavera alternate the part of Bianca. The father of the pair is played by Gordon Farrell.

The show promises to be an exciting and hilarious stage play. It will be shown April 23, 24, 25. Admission is $1 and well worth the price.

Hawaiian Family Week Is Pizza Hut Special

A swi ch from the usual is the "Hawaiian Family Week" s.onsored by the Pizza Huts (160 El Camino Real in Millbrae, 366 E. Camino Real in San Carlos). Special events are scheduled from Wednesday, April 22, through Sunday, April 26, beginning with a big Luau Wednesday night, featuring all the pizza you want from 5 p.m. Although open at 11 a.m., daily celebrations start at 5 p.m. until closing, except Saturday and Sunday, from 11 a.m. Thursday is Wahines' Night (ladies night)—free orchid for the ladies with any pizza order, plus all the salad you can eat; a movie travelogue will be shown at 9 p.m. Friday; Saturday is two-for-one night (buy any size pizza and get second one, of equal value free). Clip the coupon appearing in the Pizza Hut advertisement. Sunday is Aloha Night—featuring more fun and specials. Don't miss ou on this festive week of Hawaiian activity ... Dr. Wallace Sterling, former president of Stanford University, is a frequent diner at the Goldern Pavillion in Los Altos. He, Mrs. Sterling and Mrs. Polk Dodson of Woodside recently feasted on the "Six Classic Chinese Cuisines," which are a unique feature of the luxurious restaurant.

Pretty Jean Muzzy, waitress at the Costa Brava Restaurant, serves the "Foot-Long Martini" during "Happy Hour" (4 p.m. to 7 p.m.), along with tasty hot hors d'oeuvres. The auburn-haired, green-eyed coleen is formerly from Boston ... One of the most popular Park Avenue Tours bonus refund packages is the customer drive-up. The $10 bonus package includes $6 cash, $1 food value, and three cocktails. Contact your nearest Park Avenue Tours office for details. ... Something new has been added to the scene at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in the person of Henry Bove, who presides at the piano on Friday and Saturday nights. The downtwon San Mateo area has needed a little "action" like this, and the hotel's Club Seville is the sophisticated setting. ... Hoss' New York Steak House, a newcomer to the Millbrae restaurant skyline, is a steak house also noted for serving great Shish Kabob (tender pieces of beef, with tomatoes, onions and bell peppers). Served with salad, rice and a roll — all for $2.49. ... The Hi-Fi Room South on Third Avenue is alive with the resonant sounds of The Sound Barriers on Friday and Saturday nights. Prove your dancing skill and enter the Wednesday night dance contests.

"Automation," the new finale in Finocchio's colorful revue, is one of the most imaginative stage productions to be seen here in a long time. Every member of the cast takes part, including Lucien, Elton Paris, Laverne, Jackie Phillips, Carroll Wallace, Bobby De Castro, Rene De Carlo, Jackie Adrian, Russell Reed and Reggie Dahl .. . Organist Margie Brandon happened to be singing "The Green, Green Grass of Home" at Baron's one night when an oil tycoon from Texas dropped by the San Francisco lounge. Charmed by Margie's voice, the Texas millionaire requested two more western ballads, after which he presented her with a 75-carat Smokey Topaz ring. A few more years at Baron's and Brandon will be able to open her own gem shop . .. Stanley Pollard of Ambassador Tours recently hosted a group of businessmen for luncheon at Stickney's Stagecoach restaurant, San Mateo. Plans were made for a tour to the Orient, including Expo 70 .. . Enrico Romano, owner of Romano's Italian restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, is a sportsman and a racing car enthusiast in addition to being a handyman in the kitchen . . . Lew Lehr, the Marina Steakman, is again among the select few to receive an invitation to the big Nugget golf tournament in Nevada this June. Lehr won a trophy in each of the last two Nugget tournaments.

WE WERE TOO HASTY in commending that electric company for fixing the holes they created at the corner of Poncetta and Alemany Avenues. Seems they left some wooden "horses" for folks to trip over. Come on, fellas, three months is long enough to wait.

LESSON OF THE DAY — It's true there were four Daly City councilmen meeting at the Lake Merced Country Club the other noon, but two of the councilmen had not been sworn in as yet. The fact that a third "sworn in" councilman arrived near the end of the briefing luncheon, however, could have been sticky had not the session been open. But just for the sake of being picky, how "public" is a "private" club?

ATTENTION INCOMING COUNCILMEN — After the tours of city hall, after the briefings on what's what, curl up in front of the fireplace and carefully read the latest issue of the "Brown Act". It could be stimulating . . . interesting at the very least.

I THINK THAT I SHALL never see, a paper lovely as a tree. And so, Dear Reader, neatly pile up those old newspapers, tie them up tightly and place them on top of your refuse can every scavenger day.

The newspapers are recycled and used time and again—thus saving a lovely tree somewhere. Frankly, folks, we need all the trees we can get. A little extra effort on your part will definately help. The Daly City Scavenger Company, for one, has been picking up these bundles for some time, scavenger president Al Sereni informs.

AND SPEAKING OF THE SERENI'S — Pretty blonde Angie Sereni says the "Hermit of Thornton Beach" is a nice guy who just wants to be left alone. So let's leave him alone, already!

SAME OLD DOUBLETALK — An editorial in a North County twice weekly newspaper which appeared last February 25 explained about all those councilmen who have been in office too long and how "There ought to be a law limiting all councilmen to eight years — two terms — and no more." And yet in that same newspaper on April 8 they come out strong for an incumbent that has 16 years — FOUR TERMS — under his belt. Indeed, there oughta be a law!

P.S. — The veteran incumbent was soundly defeated.

SAN BRUNO COUNCILMAN George Corey is saving his Blue Chip stamps (and asking others to do the same) in a drive aimed at furnishing the city's Teen Center. I can remember when folks in the county responded to a Stamp Plea and donated enough stamps to purchase a small plane for the Tom Dooley Foundation in Laos. Seems to me enough folks can donate enough stamps to get enough stuff to help the kids.

Daly City Students And Ecology

To inform the public of the dangers of air, water, and land pollution, along with the rapid population growth, Westmoor High School's Science, Photography, Art, and Ecology Clubs have come up with a spectacular exhibit called the "Ecology Fair" for the annual Spring Festival taking place through Thursday.

Members of the clubs and club advisers, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zimmerman, Mr. Bill Cornejo, and Mr. Bill McKeever, have devised a tunnel through which those who enter will see an array of charts, posters, and experiments relating to the pollution and population problem. After completing this part of the tour, an area follows that will contain answers or possible solutions to the problems presented.

Throughout the tunnel are various stations, each of which will show a different side of the environmental problem. At the start of the tunnel will be the exhibits on population, as the population problem is thought to be the center from which everything else sprouts.

Accompanying this will be a question and discussion table located at the end of the tour and also a movie on population in the Little Theater.

At the beginning of Westmoor's event population part of the tunnel will be a collage made by the Art Club, charts, graphs, and some information from Zero Population Growth. (A group established to help control the population.) Many of the graphs and charts are the work of the Ecology Club.

A bathtub filled with dirty, "raunchy" water will be greeting those entering the water pollution area. Also, demonstrating how paper is recycled will be members of the Science Club.

For air pollution, Ecology Club members will have charts and graphs used to promote BART, a system of mass public transportation, to the public, that they feel, should replace cars. Mr. McKeever plans to have this particular area filled with a very potent harmless gas that will get across the idea of air pollution.

Going along with air pollution but located in the courtyard, will be a dirty car that will be running, emitting its exhaust into a plastic balloon as an example of what is expelled by cars into the air daily.

There are tentative plans to sell literature relating to the pollution-population problem in the solution area. Students hope to get a local merchant to display some of his material.

The purpose of the Ecology Fair, as Westmoor senior Dave Vasquez, who is a coordinator of the project puts it, "is to get the people of the Westmoor High School community actively working toward a solution to the ecological mess we're in."

In observing National Ecology Week, April 20-24, Jefferson High School in Daly City plans to go beyond the usual ecology-related "happenings" to engage in action programs which range from campus beautification programs to clean-up hikes which encompass areas from San Mateo to San Francisco Counties.

Among the proposed areas for clean-up of litter are sections of Golden Gate Park, the various beaches, and Guadalupe Canyon in Daly City. One project involves the chemical analysis of Colma Creek, which has been polluted by a nearby paint company.

Student coordinators of the Jefferson Ecology Fair, comprised of Helen Laracea, Jim Lemke and Bill Lindsey, expressed the hope that this kind of practical clean-up and beautification program would impress upon youth and adults alike the benefits that follow from conscientious ecological awareness.

Teachers, students, parents, professionals and businessmen will participate in the effort. Congressman Pete McCloskey will make an appearance on campus, as well as such speakers as S. F. State Professor George Treichel; Harold Stinson of Planned Parenthood, and Janet Adams of the Bay Are Pollution Control. On the last day of the fair three bands, "Big Brother and the Holding Company," "Malibus," and "Junction," are expected to perform on the Jefferson campus.

Speakers from University of California, Berkeley, Stanford, and the U.S. Department of Interior will highlight the Serramonte High School Ecology Teach-in today in Daly City.

As a part of the national teach-in activities, Serramonte will conduct a series of speaking events in the little theatre all day. There will be special displays in the carpeted area of the Student Union and television coverage of the national teach-in events wil be shown in the Resource Center.

There also will be a panel discussion from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the little theatre.

From 11:20 to 12:20 p.m., also in the little theatre, Assemblyman Leo Ryan will be the featured speaker.

Panel members at the evening Ecology session will be Robert C. Scott, U.S. Department of the Interior, speaking on subsurface and radioactive pollution.

Robert V. Bernicchi, district engineer and manager of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District, will speak on disposal.

Sylvia Gregory of San Bruno attending the Bay Conservation and Development Commission for the last four years, is an opponent of the Southern Crossing of the Bay.

Jerry Colvin, UC Berkeley, will speak on how to organize to start fighting pollution.

Dr. Lawrence Swan, professor at the Stanford Biology Department since 1954, will speak on rapid population growth. Dr. Swan is a well-known mountain explorer and an expert on high altitude ecology. He has a Science Education Series on KQED, Channel 9.

Rick Landess, biology instructor at Serramonte High, is sponsoring an ecology class next year.

Reva Krips, Daly City, has been active in the causes of conservation for several years. She is also involved in the Save The Bay organization.

The public is invited.

Abe Evenich is the sponsor for the Wilderness School activities of Serramonte. This group uses the great outdoors as a laboratory for science and nature study.

April 22 is Environmental Action Day in Daly City.

The student body at Benjamin Franklin school plans to spend part of the day studying the problems of man and his environment and the remainder of the day helping to clean up the community.

Mrs. Linda Olsen, faculty sponsor of the project at Benjamin Franklin, ask the city council for their cooperation in a letter last month.

She presented a five point program including having April 22 declared a community-wide Environmental Action Day; help promote the program by distributing school-made bumper strips advertising the project; a list of cleanup projects the students might tackle on that day; instructions to the scavenger company to pick up rubbish gathered at key locations.

Mrs. Olsen also suggested people try walking for a day and leave the family car parked at home in an effort to cut down on air pollutants.

The council agreed to four of the five suggestions, noting it was up to the people to leave their cars at home.

An Impossible Price

Santa Barbara, Berkeley, Palo Alto — these are not names of South East Asian villages, but locations of a running campus brush war in California. While the Stanford uproar appears related to the ROTC problem, uprisings at Berkeley and Santa Barbara have entered a new phase. In these instances, radicals, many of whom are not even students, seem to be pursuing their menacing course for the sake of violence and disruption alone.

Berkeley Chancellor Roger W. Heyns, in considering last week's wanton destruction, said:" . . . Any attempt to link the grim events with moral issues is a travesty on morality and a pallid attempt to pass off criminal acts as political acts."

How long we have suffered under the claims of mistaken liberals that campus upheaval is to be excused because of underlying need of change. The argument has sometimes been made that, "the squeaking wheel gets the grease" or that," oppression justifies any kind of opposition". But even the politically blind must see that the marauding bands of rock throwers are not moral crusaders. They are the destroyers, and their destruction is being effective in a strange way, perhaps not even understood by them.

More than a year ago, the Rev. Theodore Hesbergh, President of Notre Dame, predicted the "revulsion on the part of legislators state and national, benefactors, parents, alumni, and, the general public" for much that was then happening in higher education. He predicted the possibility of the rebirth of fascism unless those in charge of colleges and universities were ready to take a stand.

His words could not have been more prophetic. Public revulsion is so widely spread and deeply felt that it may sweep before it more than just academic freedom. In their frantic desire to return to the peaceful habits of earlier years, the people seem almost ready to discard some of the very foundations of our liberties and freedoms.

The First Amendment to the Constitution provides, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

This Amendment, along with our other constitutional guarantees, stands between us and some form of totalitarianism. But there is growing evidence that a dangerously large number of Americans no longer supports the Bill of Rights and our fundamental freedoms.

The most recent evidence of this dreadful state of mind was aired last week by the Columbia Broadcasting System (KCBS radio in the Bay Area). they had taken a poll in which majorities were counted in opposition to the unlimited and unfettered rights of free assembly, freedom of speech and of the press.

This is a worthy field for further examination by pollsters. The KCBS polls were enough to make intelligent observers worry about the future of constitutional rights, and what would happen if the public were allowed to vote yes or no as to their preservation.

There is nothing wrong with firm and direct action through appropriate legal channels against those committing acts of violence. Those interested in preserving a constitutional America can no longer afford indifference, sympathy, or ineffectiveness by school administrators. For the revolutionary minority may well be near victor — not through their own efforts, but by the over-reaction of a hostile majority.

'Our Violent Society'

On page 90 of his book, Our Violent Society, Dr. David Abrahamsen writes, "H. Rap Brown has said that 'violence is as American as cherry pie.' I disagree. Violence, I think, is as American as apple pie: we love violence, we love to fight. The blood of our frontier days still runs through our veins."

Almost as if to prove his contention, Dr. Abrahamsen, who is a noted psychiatrist, quotes figures that make the blood run cold.

"Statistics seem to confirm our suspicion that there is more violence in America than in any other nation. The highest rate of murder—the most definitive act of violence in the civilized world — is found in the United States; 13,650 murders in 1968 murder victims per 100,000 population." At the same time the number of murders in England and Wales was less than one-tenth the United State's rate.

Using actual case histories, Dr. Abrahamsen probes for the roots of violence and finds them related to such factors as the political makeup of the country; the changing roll of both fathers and mothers, and our inability to detect and treat potentially violen people.

HE FINDS IN THE American dream of every man becoming whatever his manhood and his vision can combine to make him, a frustrating influence that creates violent behavior patterns. "The American Dream, therefore, embodies our wishful fantasies as individuals and projects them into the fabric of our country."

He contributes some of the racial violence in America to a part of our culture that associates black or darkness with evil—blackmail, blacklist, black hearted, black death and darkest day and darkest hour. This he says gives many black men a near-fatal image of himself.

Another factor behind race prejudice and violence is a struggle for power causing both black men and white men to accept and fight against things that are mere fantasies—sexual and otherwise.

Among the examples he states are two: a widely shared belief among whitemen that the Negro has sexual superiority and an overriding fear among Negroes that whitemen will use them and their women for degrading purposes—sex being one of them.

OUR VIOLENT SOCIETY contains ten chapters each dealing with an instrument of violence in the United States.

'Evaluate Pollution, Life Style'

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

If people are sincere in their desire to do something about pollution of their environment, they must start by evaluating how they are demanding to live.

This was the essence of Supervisor Robert St. Clair's Thursday luncheon talk to the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce at Toto's Restaurant.

Speaking as a member of the Bay Area Pollution Control District, St. Clair's topic of air pollution became a discussion of pollution in general.

To emphasize his point on how people demand to live, and yet complain about pollution problems, he gave an example. It went something like this.

Since people on the Peninsula, for example, do not have a good rapid transit system, they have to have a car to get to work. Soon the realization is there that a second car is needed by more to go grocery shopping, and whatever else mothers need to do. So there are two cars.

That's bad enough. But it's no time before the youngsters are old enough to drive. What do they want? Of course, a car of their own. So now there are three cars. And so it goes.

"We the people create the problem," said St. Clair. "And we have to recognize that in order to solve the problem we'll have to make some sacrifices, personal and financial. It is not good enough to just say you are against pollution."

The supervisor stressed that he was not speaking as a prophet of doom. For that matter, he said he was extremely optimistic that "we are heading in the right direction."

He said the pollution control district has been successful, with 90 per cent efficiency. However, he did clarify that statement by pointing out that this 50 per cent efficiency pertained only to 25 per cent of the problem in the Bay Area, since the district has control only over "stationary" emission.

"Seventy-five per cent of the (air pollution) problem is caused by the combustible engine, cars, trucks and aircraft," said St. Clair.

He stressed also that elected officials must have the support of people, and noted that "suddenly everyone is an ecological expert."

St. Clair also warned against over-reaction, again using an anecdote to illustrate his point.

He told of the time when a schoolteacher from Berkeley brought her pupils into a meeting of the district. All had masks over their faces.

"It was a silent demonstration," said St. Clair. "But later I asked several youngsters why they wore the masks. They didn't really know why. They said they did it because the teacher told them to.

"This is bad," said St. Clair. "Because what this teacher is telling those kids is that government is not doing its job to the wishes of the people. And that's not true."

The Neutral Corner

By JERRY LITTRELL

APPARENTLY THE ONLY THING standing between Capuchino High School's Steve Baiocchi and a 15 - foot pole vault this season is 1. the wind; 2. his attitude; or 3. the Teamsters' Union. Pick one of the previous three for today's gold star.

If you chose either one or two it shows how much you know about track. Obviously, to any knowing soul, the answer is number three. The Teamsters' Union. Those dare - devil drivers of the highway are on strike in certain areas of the state and truck transportation must take second - best to salary negotiations. And because of the strike a new pole is starnded somewhere between here and Bakersfield sitting in the back of a truck.

Baiocchi, who has one of the top vaults in the nation this year with a 14 - 6 mark, is using a 15 - foot Fiberglas pole right now but needs a longer, heavier one to help him towards that 15-foot barrier.

"We have been having all sorts of trouble getting the proper pole for him," admitted Capuchino track coach Vince Marchi. "The one we have on order is a 16-foot one of heavier - duty. There are very few places that make poles so we just have to wait until the latter part of its trip up here can be completed."

The 16 - foot pole is made in such a manner as to hold more weight. But Baiocchi, only 6-0 and about 170 pounds, hasn't been gaining either weight or height lately. Why the extra heavy duty pole?

"Steve's techniques now enable him to handle a stiff pole," Marchi noted. "He is able to physically handle that extra weight with his strength and know - how. With that extra snapping power of the jump he might be able to break through that 14-6 mark he now holds."

Baiocchi's best mark came this year against San Mateo and arch - rival Carl Goldstone, who until that meeting had held the best Northern California leap of 14-3½. Baiocchi has also registeed a 14-flat against Burlingame even though he actually finished second best in that meeting to Rick Bruni on more misses.

No one, least of all Marchi or Baiocchi himself, is predicting how high the Mustang jumper will go this year. Baiocchi admits to just one goal in 1970 — "the state meet".

The number of adverse conditions so far thrown in his face could lead a less determined lad down the path of surrender. Baiocchi is actually jumping in what should be his junior year. He missed most all of last season with a severe ankle sprain and managed a jump of "just" 11-0 in 1969.

Then there is the school track itself. A veritable wind tunnel that would do justice to a Lockheed testing laboratory, Capuchino's facilities do not even include a regulation pit on which to practice.

"The pit is too small and too thin and the wind too wicked," Marchi continued. "It is only 12 - feet square instead of 16-feet square and there have been days when he hasn't been able to practice at all because of the strong winds. Last year he jumped once and before he came down the wind had blown him half out of the landing area. That has to psyche someone out just a little, I would think."

Baiocchi has run other events for the Mustangs until this year. He has triple - jumped, been a high - jumper and run an alternate leg on the 440-yard relay team. But this year he concentrated all his efforts on the pole vault and the results have been rewarding.

"Pole vaulting has become one of the glamor events in track," the Mustangs mentor said. "A lot more boys are being drawn to it and are starting to work on techniques much earlier in life now."

Marchi also credits a district - owned video - tape machine for enabling Baiocchi and other track team members to study techniques in stop - action, over - and - over again.

What's ahead for the Mustang jumper? Fifteen feet? Could be. Check with your neighborhood local and find out. But hurry. The season is drawing to a close.

CRESTMOOR BASEBALL COACH Terry Christman is following through with his protest over an umpire's call in his Burlingame encounter last Friday. Leading 1-0 in the fifth, Crestmoor apparently scored another run when a two-out infield grounder and an ensuing close play at first gained a 'safe' call from the ump. After a five - minute discussion, however, the umpire changed his mind, called the runner out and ended the inning, nullifying the second run.

"I'm not blaming the umpire for the loss (Burlingame won in 10 innings) because we did other things throughout that made it rough on ourselves," Christman explained. "But he didn't offer an explanation why he reversed his decision. The other umpire didn't advise him to make the change. Too long a time elapsed in there to change a call like that with no reason."

Be that as it may, we offer the opinion that the protest will be denied because it boils down to a protest over a judgement call — a non-protestable item in baseball. No time limit provision is made as long as play hasn't resumed.

NPL Track

'Haves' Keep It

The "Haves" continued their feast of the "Have - Nots" in North Peninsula League track and field action on Friday afternoon.

In all too - typical fashion, the average point spread in the four meets was an horrendous 62½ - points per meet.

The final scores were:

South San Francisco 108, Serramonte 19.

Westmoor 96, Jefferson 40.

Terra Nova 110, Half Moon Bay 24.

El Camino 75, Oceana 56.

Times, heights and distances were uninspired throughout the league, with the exception of a 6-2 high jump by Oceana's Larry Kermabon.

Double winners included: South San Francisco's Ed Seubert (440 and 220); South San Francisco's Jaime falkoiski (long jump and triple jump); South San Francisco's Tony Satoa (high jump and 120 high hurdles); Westmoor's Ken Phelps) 440 and 180 low hurdles); Westmoor's Ron Newton (long jump and trible ump).

El Camino's Joe Shannon (long jump and triple jump); Terra Nova's Jerry Ayres (high jump and 180 low hurdles); Terra Nova's Jeff Walleheyer (triple ump and long jump); and, Half Moon Bay's Henry Moravec (440 and 220).

South San Francisco's victory over Serramonte kept the Warriors NPL duel meet mark unblemished at 4-0.

Herbs Have Romantic Tradition; Noble Traits Make For Zesty Bread Filling

Herbs, either singly or in combination, transform simple, everyday foods into glamorous creations. The music of their names, their tantalizing flavors and aromas make herbs the friend of cooks.

The romance of herbs lies not only in their history, but in their mystic powers. Parsley, for instance, signifies revelry and victory and wreaths of this herb were worn by athletes in ancient times. Thyme stands for courage, and sprigs of this member of the mint family were once carried by warriors in battle. Tarragon symbolizes unselfish sharing, a worthy attribute for all.

These noble traits are combined in a zesty filling for white bread. The dough, prepared by the "no-dissolve" Rapidmix Method, is rolled up with the tarragon-parsley-thyme filling and baked in a tube pan. Each slice of Swirl Bread shows a savory ribbon of herbs.

Developed by home economists, the Rapidmix Method takes the guesswork out of bread-baking by eliminating the step of dissolving yeast in warm water. Instead, undissolved yeast is added with the dry ingredients — sugar, salt and part of the flour. Heated liqcids are added and initial beating is done with an electric mixer.

Alternate directions are given for Swirl Bread with Orange-Nut Filling. This sweeter variation makes a delectable breakfast bread or coffee-partner.

SWIRL BREAD

6 to 7 cups unsifted flour
3 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
1 package active dry yeast
1 cup milk
1 cup water
6 tablespoons margarine

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undesolved active, dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm. (Margarine does not need to melt). Gradually add to dry ingredients an beat for 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 cup flour, or batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board; divide dough in half. Proceed according to directions (below) for desired bread.

To make Orange-Nut Bread: Roll half of docgh into an 8x12-inch rectangle. Sprinkle with ½ the orange-nut filling mixture (below). Roll tightly from the 8-inch side as for jelly roll. Pinch seam to seal; seal ends of loaf and fold underneath. Place loaf, seam side down, in greased 8½x4½x2½-inch loaf pan. Repeat with remaining dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, agout 1 hour. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. If desired, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting and sprinkle with chopped English walnuts.

To make Herb Bread: Roll half of dough noto a 20x7-inch oblong. Sprinkle with ½ the Roll tightly from the 20-inch side as for jelly roll. Pinch seam to seal. Place, seam side down, in greased 9-inch tcbe pan. Seal ends together firmly. Repeat with remaining dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. If desired, dust top with flour. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

Orange-Nut Filling: Mix together ½ cup chopped English walnuts, ¼ cup firmly packed brown scbar and 2 tablespoons grated orange peel.

Herb Filling: Mix together 1 tablespoon parsley flakes, 1 teaspoon crushed thyme leaves, ½ teaspoon crushed tarragon leaves and ¼ teaspoon garlic powder.

Ocean Catch Lasagne May Treat Family

If your family likes lasagne and tuna-noodle casserole, then you can be sure in advance that they'll be enthusiastic about Ocean Catch Lasagne.

Make lasagne as usual but substitute canned tuna (so thrifty and so good) for the ground beef or sausage ordinarily used. Canned tomato sauce with cheese provides the rich tomato goodness so essential for lasagne. As a bonus this particular sauce is designed for Italian-inspired dishes; into every can go Italian seasonings and mellow Romano cheese.

Build up the lasagne with layers of noodles, cottage and Mozzarella cheeses. Obviously, this is a nutritional powerhouse. Protein, calcium, vitamin A, B-vitamins and other essential vitamins and minerals, as well, are found in generous amounts in Ocean Catch Lasagne.

Serve the lasagne with antipasto salad — relishes arranged attractively on greens and served with Italian dressing — and crunchy bread. For dessert top angel food cake wedges with a fluff of whipped cream and sliced strawberries.

OCEAN CATCH LASAGNE

1 large can (9½ ounces) tuna
½ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with cheese
½ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon oregano
1½ cups cottage cheese
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon basil
8 ounces Mozzarella cheese, shredded
8 ounces lasagne noodles, cooked and drained

Into skillet drain oil from tuna; cook onion and garlic in tuna oil until tender. Stir in tomato sauce with cheese, water, salt and oregeno; simmer 10. minutes. Add tuna. Meanwhile, combine cottage-cheese, egg, Parmesan and basil. In shallow 2-quart baking dish arrange half the noodles; spoon on half the cottage cheese, half the Mozzarella and half the tuna sauce. Repeat layers. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting into servings. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Canned Rice For Surprise

Canned Spanish rice is the surprise extender in this meat loaf recipe. Combine 2 pounds ground beef, 1 can (15 ounces) Spanish rice, 2 eggs, ¼ cup instant minced onion and 1 teaspoon salt; form into 8 individual meat loaves. Place in baking dish; pour 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce over meat; bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Soft Cries For Help Leads To Rescue Of Injured Man

About the only thing George A. Worrall hears during the lonely graveyard shift at his auto wrecking yard is the growling of wild animals.

He thought that was what he heard early Wednesday, but it wasn't.

The low, moaning sounds were the cries for help from Vincent J. Ferrando, who became pinned in his overturned truck some 18 hours earlier.

"I had seen the truck at the dump yard Tuesday afternoon," said the sharp-eared 66-year-old Worrall. "But I thought someone had dumped the truck there on purpose.

"But when I heard the moaning again this morning, I decided to drive over there."

It was a good thing he did. When Worrall who believes he is the only person who stays in the area near Candlestick Park at night, got to the tideland area, he discovered Ferrando, bloody and half-buried in the mud beneath the cab of his dump truck.

Actually, the truck lay in full view Tuesday of nearby junkyard employes, but they, too, thought it was just another abandoned wreck.

Ferando told investigators that while dumping a load of mud, his truck rolled backwards down a 20-foot embankment, tossing him partly out and settling on its side on top of him.

"I prayed and prayed," said Ferrando, 52, of 525 Cortesi Avenue, South San Francisco. "I kept hoping the tide wouldn't come too high and someone would hear he."

New Sedeno Trial Denied

Superior Court Judge Lyle R. Edson on Friday denied a new trial for Leandro Andreas Sedeno of Daly City and sentenced him to a life term in state prison for the 1966 murder of Daly City Police Officer Richard Klass.

Sedeno was convicted by a jury three weeks ago of first-degree murder, a capital offense. Deputy District Attorney Robert Bishop stipulated, however, that a penalty trial would not be needed and that Sedeno could be sentenced to a life term.

Defense attorney Dennis L. Woodman argued that the jury erred because of evidence that his client did not have the mental capacity to deliberate the killing of Officer Klass. The argument was rejected by Judge Edson.

The defendant stood in chains and under heavy guard as sentence was imposed. It was during an escape attempt in Daly City, following Sedeno's arrest on a charge of indecent exposure, that the policeman was shot with his own gun.

Sedeno was subsequently adjudged insane and confined in the state hospital at Atascadero until he was able to stand trial. During the trial he was kept at Agnews State Hospital and since his conviction has been at the state prison facility at Vacaville, to where he was returned after sentencing.

Dueling Site Acquisition Hearing Slated For May 19

Anyone who has feelings one way or the other about plans of the County of San Mateo to spend $3,975 to acquire the Broderick-Terry duel site near Daly City will have a chance to speak his piece at 10 a.m. on May 19.

That is the time and date of a public hearing scheduled by the County Board of Supervisors on the proposed acquisition, which has taken years and a lot of complicated negotiations to work out.

The site, already marked with obeliska on the spots where the duelists supposedly stood, will remain much the same after public acquisition except that it will be fenced and a parking area will be provided.

The two-acre parcel, located close to Lake Merced at the San Francisco-San Mateo County line, is the place where United States Senator David C. Broderick and California Supreme Court Justice David S. Terry fought their historical duel on September 13, 1859.

Broderick reportedly fired into the ground, while his adversary took careful aim. Broderick died three days later. The episode is said to have led to the end of dueling in California.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes said the San Francisco Golf Club has agreed to sell the two acres to the county for $1,500. In addition, the county will pay the club for the cost of fencing, estimated at $2,475.

Builder Henry Doelger will provide a parking lot on the San Francisco side of the site, Tarshes said, and will pay the club $1,830 for fencing.

The arrangement, the county manager explained, is part of a land exchange agreement worked out by Doelger and San Francisco officials.

The San Francisco Water Department has granted permission for construction of a path.

Board Chairman Jean Fassler gave credit to William F. Dempsey of the county engineer's office for working out the complex property deal.

Earth Day Fetes

Skyline College's student coordinator of activities John Hoppe announced a full slate of events and activities for the college's National Environment Week, which began today and will continue through Friday.

Along with the guest speakers, film presentations, and discussions, the college students will be involved in two symbolic phases on "Earth Day" on Wednesday.

On Wednesday the students along with the faculty and administration are urged to leave their cars home and use other forms of transportation to attend the campus.

"For those students living at too great a distance should form carpools to come to college. Demonstrate your concern, leave your car home. For those wishing to form carpools (drivers and riders), call 589-6270 (after 4 p.m.) and leave your name, address, and phone number," Hoppe said.

Included among the topics during the five day series of events are those relating to the problems caused by technology, population explosion, effects of chemicals upon humans, animals, and natural resources, the plight of life both in the water and on the land, and the responsibilities of the citizens and leaders.

At nearby Crestmoor High School in San Bruno, all regular classes will be suspended on Wednesday as the entire school attends seminars, movies, debates, lectures and assemblies devoted to "Earth Day" themes.

Guest speakers from a variety of walks of life will be on campus as well. In addition, there will be outdoor demonstrations of a wide spectrum of endeavors and sports.

Among the more unusual demonstrations will be the presentation of a starvation diet by the Home Economics Department — all visitors will be served a bowl of brown rice and a cup of tea — and Visual Ecology in the Art Department. This will include the construction by students of works of art from refuse taken from the environment: beer cans, junk, litter.

Dr. Telford of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, will demonstrate the results of pesticides. Noise pollution and its effects will be shown in a display in the electronics department.

Ray Taliafero, of KRON-TV, and Larry Pearson will lead a panel in the discussion of world population problems and the black man's thoughts regarding population controls.

Dr. Felstein, of the Air Pollution Control Board, will debate with members of Standard Oil industry, the Trucking Association, the automotive industry, and the airlines about smog.

Conservationst Ollie Mayer will speak about the rapid over-development of the San Mateo County coastline, and senatorial candidate Arlen Gregorio will be on hand to discuss the different things being done (or not being done) toward bettering our environment, on the government-level.

Mrs. Danielson, director of the Junior Museum at Coyote Point, will come and speak about air pollution in the Bay Area killing what few trees we have left.

Environmental music for everyone's pleasure will be performed in the Great Court by Lyn Elder, who makes his own instruments and is proficient on the recorder, banjo, guitar, and hurdy-gurdy

Mrs. Sylvia Gregory of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission will answer questions about bay fill, southern crossing, and the ecological effect the bay has on us.

Vietnam Plaque At Westmoor HS

A memorial plaque soon will be displayed in Westmoor High School's trophy case to honor alumni killed in Vietnam action.

Sheila Stewart, student body vice president, is heading the plaque committee, which has won the approval of Principal Clay Kollmann, student activities director Robert Lotti and District Supt. Edward Morgan.

Miss Stewart said the committee is attempting to obtain the names to be engraved on the plaque. The student body will keep the plaque up to date.

Political Roundup

'Ike' Talks To GOP Meet

Assemblyman Carl A. "Ike" Britschgi, candidate for State Senator for San Mateo County, came down to the nitty-gritty of all of the problems of concern to Californians in a talk to a meeting of Young Republicans in Burlingame last week.

"We face many problems, particularly in the fields of ecology and environmental development, education, law and order and taxes," Britschgi said.

"But," he said, "the most important of these is money — and this, of course, means taxes. Many solutions have been offered, but none of them has included the answer to where is the money going to come from?

As an example, he cited proposals by other political candidates for acquiring in some distant future all of the unincorporated land from Devil's Point in San Mateo County to Santa Cruz as a potential conservation and recreation area.

"The idea," he said, "is wonderful. It would be great to acquire land from here to the Mexican border, but where does the money come from?"

"As it is now," Britschgi said, "on the coast side of San Mateo County, the state owns some 90 per cent of the beaches and many of the farmers and ranchers in that area are in the open space program, so that, in essence, these conservation areas already are reasonably protected."

"The question is, if the program that has been proposed for complete restriction of the coastside area to conservation should be adopted, who is going to pay for it? Obviously, it must be the people living on the bayside of the mountains, and in the meantime, those on the coastside will be deprived of their property rights, and, in many cases, their livelihood itself."

Britschgi made the point that "as another candidate for the State Senate has proposed, this obviously is a problem that needs study but I cannot go along with his idea that we must plan for 20 years ahead insofar as legislative action is concerned. This is a job for specialists in the field who can then advise the Legislators.

Batttaglia, Geno Issue Statements

Dick Battaglia and Dick Geno released a joint statement announcing their candidacy for the Republican County Central Committee.

Battaglia is currently chairman of the First District of the Central Committee, and Geno is an associate member.

Both have been appointed to Governor Reagan's Program Development Committee.

Battaglia recorded a record-high number of votes two years ago when he was elected to the Central Committee. He is currently serving as vice chairman of the Personnel Board for South San Francisco and is a member of the Social Worker and Marriage Counselors Licensing Board for the State of California. He is married with four children.

Geno, a graduate of the University of California, is also married with four children.

He is currently the chairman of the San Mateo County Young Republicans.

Battaglia indicated that Geno's dynamic leadership will be a great asset to the Central Committee.

Spadarella Backs Independent Cabs

Declaring that San Mateo County citizens are "in the grip of a transportation octopus, aided and abetted by the City of San Francisco," Frank Toto Spadarella, Daly City businessman and Republican candidate for Assemblyman in the 27th district of Northern San Mateo County, today championed the cause of independent San Mateo County taxicab operators to serve the San Francisco International Airport.

"The small independent taxi operators of this county are being threatened, beaten, and even arrested by San Francisco police at the airport for asserting their clear legal right to serve this unincorporated area of the county. Moreover, citizens of our county who enter one of these local cabs at the airport are being subjected to threats, and hauled off to jail along with the driver in many instances," states Spadarella.

"This intolerable state of affairs must end.

"I challenge the monopolistic San Francisco Public Utilities Commission to recognize the rights of the citizens who live in San Mateo County to be provided with a needed public service by their fellow small businessmen. The Yellow Cab Co. of San Francisco refuses to provide this service, but like a dog in the manger, denies our taxi operators that right.

"I further call on Mayor Alioto of San Francisco to appoint San Mateo County men to seats on the proposed Airport Authority which he is in the process of forming.

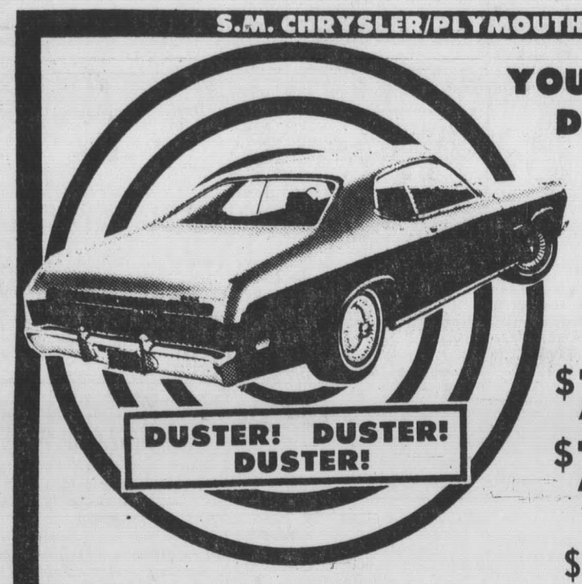

"The refusal of the City of San Francisco to recognize that "their airport" is within and a part of San Mateo County has gone beyond all limits. The harassment of our independent taxi businesses, their drivers, and the citizens who want transportation from the airport, is just one instance of the mockery indulged in by San Francisco. If San Francisco wants something, they are down here posthaste, wining and dining whoever they think can help them. But, let us seek something of mutual benefit, and they can't see us for dust.

"If State laws are needed to guard the rights of San Mateo County against the monopoly of San Francisco — its weighty hand on roads and highways, its "exclusive" contract with Yellow Cab of San Francisco — you can count on Frank Spadarella to represent the people of San Mateo County; in or out of the office for which I am a candidate. They are not getting this kind of support now from the incumbent assemblyman.

"Believe me, the next time I want to go to or from the San Francisco International Airport, I will ride in a San Mateo County taxi — and nobody better try to stop me."

According to Spadarella, dozens of signed affidavits are already on file with the United Transportation Association of San Mateo County, composed of the 27 independent taxi operating companies in the county and headed by Milton Henke of the Yellow Cab Company of Pacifica. They are signed by citizens who have either been refused transportation by Yellow Cab of San Francisco from the airport to their local homes in the county, or have been placed under arrest along with an independent cab operator for daring to enter his cab. The taxi association also has more then 1000 signatures on a petition.
